Services

Intellectual Property, Corporate,

Ryan practices in the firm's Intellectual Property group where he focuses solely in patent litigation, patent prosecution, and trademark matters. He represents large public companies and small startups in obtaining patent protection from the U.S. Patent & Trademark Office, defending patent infringement cases, and enforcing patent rights.

Ryan has represented clients in both patent litigation and patent prosecution matters across a variety of technologies such as: wireless communications, semiconductor devices, signal processing, design of digital and analog circuits, imaging and networking. He has represented clients in patent litigation in various federal district courts, the International Trade Commission, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, and in post-grant proceedings before the Patent Trial & Appeal Board.

While in law school, Ryan was awarded Best Note by the Florida Journal of International Law and a Book Award for Evidence. He was also a member of the Saul Lefkowitz Trademark Moot Court Team.
