

Webinar, "Hunstein v. Preferred Collection: Our Attorneys (and Special Guest Tomio Narita) Analyze the Eleventh Circuit's Problematic Recent FDCPA Decision on Third Party Disclosures"

04.26.2021

Date: Monday, April 26th

Time: 12:00 CT / 1:00 ET

Topic: Hunstein v. Preferred Collection: Our Attorneys (and Special Guest Tomio Narita) Analyze the Eleventh Circuit's Problematic Recent FDCPA Decision on Third Party Disclosures

Description: On April 21, 2021, the Eleventh Circuit issued one of the more unusual FDCPA decisions in years, holding that a debt collection agency that transmitted information concerning a debt to a letter vendor had made an improper disclosure in violation of section 1692c(b) of the FDCPA. If the decision stands, it could have broad implications on a collector's ability to hire vendors or other third-parties to assist with collection efforts. The full impact of this decision on debt collectors and first-party collectors is unknown, but our panelists will analyze the decision and its potential impact on the industry, and will address potential arguments to use in future litigation.

Moderator: Zachary Miller, Burr & Forman

Panelists: Tomio Narita, Simmons & Narita; Matthew Mitchell, Burr & Forman; Kristen Watson, Burr & Forman

RELATED PROFESSIONALS

Zachary D. Miller

Matthew T. Mitchell

Kristen Peters Watson